

Workers requiring vaccination categories

Workers requiring vaccination

Category 1

A worker who is likely to come into contact with people who are at risk of severe illness from COVID, including Aboriginal people and people who cannot be vaccinated due to age or a contraindication to all vaccines.

Examples include but are not limited to:

People who work with children

- Teachers, tutors and child care workers
- Coaches
- Dancing teachers
- Swimming instructors

People who work in customer-facing roles

- Retail and hospitality
- Finance
- Veterinary services
- Gyms
- Beauty

People who work with vulnerable people

- Disability care workers
- Personal carers
- Legal service providers

People who work in Aboriginal communities and community services sector

- Community stores
- Regional councils
- Aboriginal art centres
- Remote community Police
- Cleaning contractors
- Tradespeople
- Family members of people who work in remote communities
- Domestic & family violence services
- Alcohol and other drugs
- Youth services
- Faith based leaders in remote communities

Workers requiring vaccination

Category 2

A worker who is at an increased risk of contracting COVID or who work in a high risk setting where there is a known risk of transmission.

Examples include but are not limited to:

People who may come into contact with a person that poses a risk of infection during the course of their work

- Health care workers in hospitals and emergency departments
- Police and emergency service workers
- Workers in quarantine facilities & border control workers
- GP clinics, respiratory clinics, pharmacies

People who work in high risk settings where COVID-19 transmission or an outbreak may occur

- Correction and detention facilities
- Homeless shelters
- Mine sites
- Food processing distribution
- Cold storage facilities including abattoirs
- Cruise ships

Category 3

A worker who is at an increased risk of contracting COVID or who work in a high risk setting where there is a known risk of transmission.

Examples include but are not limited to:

People who work in essential infrastructure and logistics

- Essential infrastructure including electricity, gas, water, sewerage, telecommunications and remote infrastructure
- A person who is critical to the NT's COVID-19 response, who is not included in Category 1
- COVID-19 Emergency Operations Centre